With autumn upon us, veteran cyclists are now sharing Chicago's best kept transportation secret—there's no need to banish your bike to the basement this winter. With a little preparation and know-how, all-season cycling is the ever-popular "get layered" strip tease demo; riding safely through wind, snow, and ice; gear and maintenance tips; and even a visit from jolly old St. Nick! Free door prizes will feature cycling accessories that will help make all-season cycling a breeze. This workshop is part of Chicago Bike Winter, a grass roots series of educational, social, and activist events that have been encouraging all-season cycling since 1999.
