

Bubbly Creek:

The CCM Secret Swimming Hole Ride. 6/24/2005.

Our Destination: Bubbly Creek at 35th Street.

During yesteryear, the South Fork of the Chicago River was a notorious open sewer for the Chicago Stock Yards. The bubbles were caused by decaying animal carcasses hurled into the stream. Chickens walked across the top of Bubbly Creek when it crusted over.

Today, Bubbly Creek's decaying riverbed continues to bubble, providing a nature jacuzzi for swimmers.
