ARTIST TALK

Saturday, February 28, 2 pm

Members $8, nonmembers $10, students and the break/s ticket holders $6

As President Obama begins his tenure, artists—among many others—dream of a new America. At this pivotal moment in our country, new perspectives on and responses to culture are not only possible but necessary. Drawing from their experiences in community organizing, media justice, hip-hop activism, and the arts, leading poet and performer Marc Bamuthi Joseph and renowned writer Jeff Chang discuss the power of hip-hop and youth culture to reshape the American and global landscapes.

MARC BAMUTHI JOSEPH THE BREAK/S

PERFORMANCE

Thursday–Saturday, March 26–28, 7:30 pm

$10 student tickets are going fast!

Rousing political and cultural awareness, this mix tape for the stage recounts the intensely personal story of Bamuthi's coming of age in the world of hip-hop. Inspired by Jeff Chang's social history of the genre, Can't Stop Won't Stop, Bamuthi conveys an energized narrative powered by beats and video mixed live onstage.
