“Drink More, Buy Less!”

Thanks for supporting Santa Rampage 2006 and spreading the word that happiness isn't achieved by maxing out your Visa card limit. Listed below are some ideas to spread cheer while avoiding the Christmas spending and consumption orgy:

- 1. Vow to spend more time with your loved-ones in the year to come. Watching TV doesn't count. Bar time does.
- 2. Lessen your impact on the environment. Buy less crap, use mass transit, ride your bike, drink kegged beer and roll your own cigarettes. The greatest gift we can give to future generations is an unspoiled earth.
- 3. Join the Santa Rampage 2006 on Dec. 16th or launch your own charismatic revolutionary movement.
- 4. Give homemade and dumpster dived gifts, such as drawings, poems, day old bread, 8 track tapes etc. Pass along a good book that you've read.

5. Buy Santa a drink. It won't break the bank and you'll feel better for having spread good cheer!
